

REVIEWS

2013 Mast Shiraz

97 points

James Halliday,

James Halliday Wine Companion 2016

Big version of a Langi red, complete with syrupy oak, though all its arms and legs suggest that it has a long way to run. There's power here, fruit driven and luscious, with concentrated plum, cloves, freshly-sawn cedar and black pepper flavours careering through the palate to gorgeous effect. The finish: it's a wave, a series, a long stretch of tannin with a rumble of fruit and spice flavours crashing through it. It's as well prepared for the future as you could ever hope a wine to be.

92 + points

Lisa Perrotti-Brown MW,

eRobertParker.com, May 2015

Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2013 Mast Shiraz has a youthfully vibrant nose of crushed blackberries and blueberries with suggestions of star anise, cinnamon stick, clove and black pepper plus a waft of cedar. Full-bodied, rich, powerful and built like a brick house, it delivers great concentration on the palate with firm, grainy tannins and refreshing acidity, finishing with wonderful persistence.

